DR Adenauer deserves the triumph which he enjoyed on Thursday when he persuaded the Lower House of the West German Government to approve the final reading of the Bonn Convention and to ratify the European Defence Com-munity Treaty. SHOPPING BY NUMBERS?

5000 women bring the day nearer

COON women in Britain may be buying clothes with a made-to-measure fit by code numbers. There will be uniformity of size ranges in the London stores if manufacturers adopt suggestions made at the conference on national sizing convened in London by the British Standards Institution.

by VIVIEN BATCHELOR

Once you know that XYZ is your size code you will be able to buy gar-ments to fit you exactly in any shop which has that code size in stock.

The conference decided that the old "36in, bust" method of sizing is unsatisfactory since it can apply to garments for young or old, short and plump, or tall and skinny. The codes will grade height and weight and age suitability.

Five thousand women from all parts of Britain have been weighed and measured in a survey which will be used as a guide to working out sizes.

One discovery of the survey: women in the North are fatter and have heavier shoulders than those in the South. Lower income groups are fatter than those in the higher brackets.

we gave T is the spring of 1943. Hitler's march has been halted. In the Eastern Mediterranean Montgomery has rolled Rommel in the desert dust. In the West the joint British-American invasion of North Africa is moving to victory.

Already it has been decided that the next blow will be the invasion of Sicily as a stepping-stone into Europe. The double problem facing the Hon. Ewen E. S. Montagu, Naval Intelligence officer, was how to keep the secret from Hitler, and at the same time fox him into believing that the blow would fall instead on Sardinia or Greece.

Why not drop a dead man with papers "doctored"—so skilfully that the Germanswould accept them as genuine? Why not float the body ashore in Spain in an area infested by German agents?

So a body was selected; the body of a man whose name is for ever secret, who, had died of pneumonia.

BORN on this first day of the incoming sign. Aries, your ruler is Mars and you will show the aggressive, forceful characteristics which are to make you a lighter, pioneer and a leader. You are persistent and at times self-willed. You want what you want, exactly when you want it! This rugged individualism, however, is tempered by such a charming personality that you usually get what you ask for right away without much resistance!

The stars have given you a diversity of talents and you must make use of that self-determination to work out your life well in advance. Otherwise, you are incurred to try to do too many things all at once. Eventually, even your great energy will break down it you continuously keep too many irons in the fire. You have a high temper and often show it. Yet you are quick to forgive and want to make immediate amends for any harm or hurt seelings! If it may be said you are lacking in any one thing, it is the waving grace of a sense of humour. Try to cultivate one. Often it can prevent a temperamental outburst and save the day! OXFORD ROW FINAL TRIAL

Seconds Behind Cambridge Time

London, Mar. 20. The Oxford University boat race crew rowed their third and final full course trial today in 18 minutes 38 seconds and though they bettered their time for the second trial by 25 seconds they were still 37 seconds slower than Cambridge's record trial time of yesterday. Conditions on the tideway today were not quite as good as yesterday and Oxford did not have such a strongly running tide and following wind. Rowing stroke for stroke with the London Rowing Club, head of the river crew, which joined them at Harrod's, Oxford found it difficult to shake them off until near Chiswick when No. 7 in the London crew was catapulted out of his boat after catching a "crab,"

He was picked out of the water by two women in u following launch, none the worse for his immersion. Oxford were joined by Isis crew over the final stretch and finished with stroke J. S.
